Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and Finance (BBA-ACF)

Program Description

The Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and Finance provides students with a broad education in business disciplines while emphasizing on specialized knowledge in accounting and finance. The curriculum covers core areas such as human resource management, marketing, e-business, international business, and organizational behavior, alongside accounting and finance principles and their application in local and global contexts. Students gain competencies in financial reporting, management accounting, portfolio management, securities analysis, accounting information systems, and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Training also includes quantitative and qualitative analysis, problem-solving, and the use of accounting and finance technologies to support effective decision-making.

Graduates of this program are prepared for roles such as accountant, auditor, investment analyst, securities trader, and financial manager, as well as positions within multinational corporations, government agencies, and international organizations across both the private and public sectors with ample opportunities for ongoing professional growth and advancement.
